

Louise

Heavy Love

So, I can't begin to tell you all how long I have been waiting to say this but it's now official my new album 'Heavy Love' will be released on Friday 18th October.

Words cannot describe how proud I am of this record and I would even go to say this is personally my favourite album to date.

LOUISE

Heavy Love

It was a roller coaster of emotions writing and recording this in London, Sweden & LA. There were times I doubted myself but something inside kept the fire burning and the finished album is one I will treasure for ever.

I had the pleasure of working with a sensational collection of music luminaries including Clean Bandit, Raye, Sinead Harnett, Karen Poole and Sky Adams to name a few.

I know before you all start saying that the 18th October is Soo long away fear not as tomorrow morning (Tuesday 26th March), I will be dropping in to premiere the first song from the album called 'Stretch' exclusively on Radio2 Breakfast Show around 8am – so don't forget to tune in.

I co-wrote and recorded 'Stretch' in Stockholm last summer and I knew straight away I wanted this to be the first song for you all to hear. I wanted to give you all a little flavour of the album before release, so I hope you like it.

PRE-ORDER NOW

So, head over to my official online store to pre-order the album now and check out the physical formats (I love the white vinyl) and enjoy /download/ stream 'Stretch' and I promise you after being 18 years late to the party this will be the first of many songs ahead of the album release.

P.S... I would LOVE to see your reactions to the first time you hear 'Stretch' and see the video! Please film them and tag me on Twitter and Instagram! I will message you back if I see them! x
